The Urban Institute reveals a staggering wealth gap between homeowners and renters, driven largely by real estate — a gap that has reached unprecedented levels. According to Bankrate, homeownership can often be a key driver of wealth accumulation. However, this challenge is especially daunting for first-generation homeowners, whose families have never owned a home. Costs like down payments and closing fees are major barriers that cut across all racial and ethnic backgrounds and geographies. Progressive is passionately committed to breaking down these barriers by equipping individuals with the essential knowledge and resources needed to purchase, maintain, and build a lasting legacy through homeownership. We've made it part of our purpose to open the door for aspiring homeownership financial security for generations to come. Our investments are helping more families purchase, retain, and build a lasting legacy through homeownership. Last year, we partnered with various organizations to lay the foundation for tangible impact. We're not stopping there — we're investing more in 2025 and beyond to greatly expand our efforts and reach even more hopeful homeowners. Providing the knowledge and resources necessary to purchase, maintain, and build wealth through homeownership. The goal? To foster financial security for generations to come. With the wealth gap between homeowners and renters at an all-time high, we're devoted to making homeownership accessible by providing financial resources and educational tools to help first-generation homeownership accessible by providing financial resources and educational tools to help first-generation homeownership we're devoted to making homeownership we're committed to empowering homeowners with the resources and support they need to thrive in homeowner ship, including guidance and education on maintaining and sustaining their investment. Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) You can find the Progressive app on the App Store (for iPhones) or Google Play (for Android devices). The app is available for the vast majority of our customers, but it may not be available for older devices/phones or operating-system versions. Like most iOS and Android apps, we request your permission to access information and features on your device. This allows us to provide you with the best experience possible and lets you use all of the great functionality we have to offer. Permissions we request include: Location: Uses your location to make it easier to file a claim, request roadside assistance, or find a local agent. Photos, Media, Files, Camera and Microphone: Allows you to take and submit photos of documents that we've requested, as well as photos and videos of vehicle damage to help expedite your claim. If you enroll in Snapshot or Accident Response, location is also used to capture trip data including speed, mileage, hard brakes, and when a trip starts and stops. Snapshot and Accident Response require additional permissions, including:iOS/Motion and Android/Activity: Used to detect driving or an accident when the app is not in use. Phone & Bluetooth permission (Android): Allows the app to check if customer is making calls while driving. Bluetooth permission is used to record trips by detecting if the phone is connected to a vehicle. Turn Off Battery Optimization (Android): Prevents the app from going into standby mode, which blocks the app from detecting accidents or driving. The app currently supports self-service for Auto, Motorcycle/ATV, Boat/PWC, RV/Trailer, and Snowmobile policies, with some limited functionality for Commercial Lines sole proprietor policies with the app. If you do not already have an online Progressive account for our servicing website, then you can get started by tapping Create Account on the login screen of the Progressive app. Then, create a User ID and password (this will then work on both our app and website). If you already have an online account for our servicing website, then you can use the same account credentials for our app. You will only stay logged into the app if you choose the Remember Me option. Otherwise, the app will time out after 15 minutes of inactivity for security. Fingerprint login is available on Apple devices that support Face ID. If your device is eligible, you'll see an option on the login screen of the Progressive app. If we've identified a policy that we think may belong to you, we will ask you to confirm it within the app by providing certain account information. If you're still not seeing all of your policies, please call us for assistance. For example, you could save by bundling home and auto, auto and motorcycle, and more. Do I need renters insurance? Renters insurance? Renters insurance can be very beneficial as it covers you for personal liability, damage to your belongings, injuries to others that you're responsible for, as well as lodging and other expenses if you can't stay in your rental due to a covered incident. Some landlords and rental property managers may also require their tenants to carry renters insurance and what it covers. Why bundle your renters and auto insurance? You can easily quote and buy auto and renters insurance together. Managing your renters and auto in one place makes it easy to adjust your coverages. New and current customers can save by bundling renters and auto insurance Bundling auto and renters insurance simply means buying both policies from the same insurance company. It's an easy way to get covered as both a driver and renter, as well as an easy way to save as many insurers (Progressive included) offer a discount when you bundle. All you have to do is quote and buy auto and renters with Progressive and then cancel your coverage with your current insurer. Just make sure your new policies start before your current insurance at any time and earn a multi-policy discount on your new Progressive auto policy.
