Hackberry rod and gun fishing guides

After the Katrina hurricane hit New Orleans, the fishermen of Lake Calcasieu still had a good life and enjoyed an excellent fishing. The storm brought a lot of trout and spotted red fish. Many of the tourist areas along the Gulf Coast had been closed, but the fishing business augured. However, fishermen knew that good times generally do not last, and bad times can follow. Four weeks after Hurricane Rita jumped right in the center of Lake Calcasieu. Although most of the nation people remember Katrina and its devastating effect in New Orleans, the fishermen of Calcasieu will never forget Rita. For many people, that storm changed their lives forever. But on the heels of Rita came part of the best trout fish that Lake Calcasieu has had in years. We talked with two guides of Calcasieu, CAPT. Jeff Poe of the guide service of Big Lake and CAPT. Kirk Stansel of Hackberry Rod & Gun - to get his stories about what happened and what he can expect this summer and fall, if you are planning a fishing trip to Lake Calcasieu. Capt. Jeff Poe À ¢ à, ~ à "Hurricane Katrina occurred in August, and after Katrina, fishing was really good," he recalls poe. À ¢ à, ~ à "we are hitting absolutely mottled trout and red fish. "Although Katrina brought great fishing to our region, all summer before Katrina trout fishing in Calcasieu had been difficult. But in September we were having some of the best fish that we have experienced. À ¢ à, ~ à "The hurricane Rita started our path. We saw what happened in New Orleans, so the majority of the people around Calcasieu were filled and went to the hills. À ¢ à, ~ à "Mary and I have just built a few accommodations for our guests: a new new duplex on the lake and another house. Rita caused severe wind and rain damage to both, and the ceilings were torn from houses. À ¢ à, ~ "Luckily, we did not lose any pile on the pier, although we lost some of the covers, we lost the roof over our boat shed and all our boat elevators, but fortunately, all the piles were in place. All Our ours They were good because we take them to the shore with us. À ¢ œThe storm hit a Saturday, and returned to the lake on Monday to evaluate the damages. He heard several rumors about people who saw great flocks of seagulls diving on bait fish on the lake. At first, he thought that the seagulls feed on dead bait. However, the seagulls were diving in live bait with nice slats of mottled trout and noddling chicken under them. The first day that my son could leave, he and one of my guides caught 25 trouts of good sizes in an aluminum boat without drag engine. «When I arrived at the lake, the birds were working, and the fish were breaking the surface everywhere. There is no doubt that Rita brought trout to the lake. We had a lot of trout on the lake anyway. But I think the storm brought more fish because the water became so high and washed so much bait outside the swamp and Calcasieu. À ¢ œHe had a freshwater pond of 1 acre 1/2 mile from the lake, and Rita brought high water to the freshwater lake. After the storm and water stepped back, we pump the lake and find 10 flounde, weighing up to 5 pounds each, 20 small trout, no nostril chicken, thousands of croakers and bait fish, blue crabs, shrimp and mangrove snappers. "So I know that the storm had brought all those fish to the shore. The water level was about 5 feet above the normal level of the pond. À «Fishing was so good in Calcasieu that at a week of the storm, the limit of the mottled trout could already be reached. À «Even at this moment, fishing» is incredible. I have been fishing and guiding in Calcasieu for 25 years, and I took more trout this April and May that I have caught in any other year that we have fished the lake. À ¢ œWhat am I seeing, the trout seemed to have come out of an extra spawning because we are taking a lot of small trout that are from 6 to 8 inches long. The majority of the we are catching in schools will weigh 2 to 4 pounds each. But I've been surprised how many schools schools Small trout Wea I've seen this year. À À À À ¢ We also had a great spring play on this year, and the numbers of salmon seem to be almost the same as always. If our area has good weather this summer, we hope to have one of the best wea years I have never had with mottled trout, the garden and flounder. À ¢ I think Hurricane Rita has been like a repopulation program in Calcasieu because fishing has just got better. Storms are bad for people and coast; However, they really good for fishing. À ¢ Our biggest problem after storm t hasna been fishing, but rather having a home for our customers. Wea re luck; They gave us the house rebuilt in mid-November. À ¢ Our reservations have been filled since the storm. So if you are the planning of a trip to Calcasieu this summer or autumn, it is necessary to move forward and buy now. Since the fish have returned after the storm, the fishermen have also been done. À ¢ Another advantage of the storm is that really cleaned the swamp of duck hunting. I did not have any kind of debris problems in my swamp from Ita N North of the Intracoastal Canal. If this region has a cold winter, we ll have a great melted season and explosion where you can duck hunt by the morning and fish spotted trout and the fender in the afternoon. Fused and explosion has become so popular that you may want to go ahead and reserve your fallen hunt and fishing. Yes, we have had a terrible year of the last year due to the storm. But the hurricane also made our fishing better than ever. The fishermen have learned about our excellent fishing. If we donate t, it has a strong storm during the calendar months of the year 2006, we should have a very productive fishing to get more information about fisheries with the Jeff PoE Captain in the Great Guide Lake service, call the , or go to . Captain. Kirk Stansel ours of a country house dodged the hurricane Katrina, but he took us Rita on the chin, À ¢ Stansel said. A before Rita hit, we were in a kind of crisis in our fishing cycle. Fishing had had tough for the last three years on Lake Calcasieu. "However, Rita struck in September, and by mid-October, there were fish all over Calcasieu. That's the good news. "The bad news is that our pier blew up and our hostel was so torn apart that we had to demolish it completely and rebuild it. But our hostel should be ready by the end of June. "In mid-October, we were taking people fishing. However, most of our business came from people who drove, rather than staying in this area. There was just no place here for them to stay. Our guides brought in large quantities of fish. We didn't see many really big fish, but all the fish we rebught were a good grade, with most of them in the 14- to 16 inches long. "In the spring and early summer, trout fishing has been exceptional. We are placing trout banks from one end of the lake to the other, even in muddy waters, which has always been a difficult task for successful fishing, even before Hurricane Rita. The lake is a little more stained than in the past, probably because of all the silt that Katrina and Rita have removed. "In the last three or four years, to catch a lot of trout, we have had to use live bait. But since Rita, we're fishing all our fish on artificial signs. "So many trout are out there now. We still have some customers who want to fish with live bait, and we certainly allow them, but you can get your trout limit with artificial flakes now without any problem. "We've been seeing big fish since April. We've already seen some 6- and 7-pound spots, and the sizes of the fish that our anglers are bringing in now are much better than last fall. "I really feel that the big fish will move with the new moon in June (June 25), as that's usually when we start to see the 9- and 10 pounds of fish. It has been slow until now because most of our customers who fish with us prefer to come and remain in our lodge. But many of Now they say they're going back to fishing on Hackberry as soon as we get our lodge up and running again. "Our summer fishery is usually the best time to fish for trout and redfish. So if you are going to book, now is the time, as we have people calling every day and reserving the hostel for when it reopens. "One of our best and most successful fishing trips has been our overnight boat trips. The fishermen dine with us at the lodge and then board a 40-foot houseboat that takes six people fishing. We turn off the lights on a reef and anchor, and as soon as the bait appears, the trout starts following them. After dinner, the boat leaves the dock, and the fishermen stay outside until 4 in the morning. The night boat usually brings mostly trout with some flounder and redfish in the catch. "With all the fish on the lake now, the night boat should be a great way to catch a bunch of spotted trout and redfish and dodge the summer heat at the same time. The night boat, which normally runs until October, has been so popular that most of our weekends are booked already during the summer. But we still have some openings during the week. "Hackberry Lodge starts its plaster trips for ducks and trout with the chalk season in September. Our large duck season usually starts in mid-November, depending on when the state sets the season. "We have a lot of people who like to get up in the morning, eat a good breakfast, catch ducks, go in for gumbo at lunch and then fish for spotted trout and redfish until dark. A melting and blasting trip is a hunting and fishing trip from before the light to after the darkness that everyone really enjoys. "Based on the number of fish we are Now, I predict that this summer and autumn, we will have the best fishing year we have had at the last five or six years.
